POLICY AND RESOURCES COMMITTEE 8 September 2025

PART I

Community Governance Review (ADCCC)

1. Summary

- 1.1 Following a request from Chorleywood Parish Council, this report seeks the views of Members on whether to undertake a review of some of the unparished areas of Three Rivers District Council, and if so, to agree the suggested terms of reference.

2. Recommendation

- 2.1 That Policy and Resources Committee determines whether to undertake a Community Governance Review relating to the specified unparished areas of the district.
- 2.2 Should the Committee agree to undertake a Community Governance Review, to agree to the terms of reference attached at appendix A.

3. Details

- 3.1 Through the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007, district councils were given the power to amend parish council boundaries within their area. This is known as a "Community Governance Review" (CGR). There are two situations where this may occur: because the Council decides to do so, or it receives a petition with sufficient public support.
- 3.2 Members will be aware that on 21 July 2025 Policy and Resources Committee considered undertaking a CGR for all of the unparished areas of the district. At that time the Committee agreed not to progress a CGR. However, since which time Chorleywood Parish Council have made a formal request that the Council consider undertaking a CGR to specific areas of the unparished areas of the district.
- 3.3 As a CGR was only considered by Policy and Resources Committee, the request from the Parish Council was declined. However, in accordance with Rule 22 of the Council Procedure Rules, ten Members of the Council have confirmed that they wish the Committee to again consider a Community Governance Review. The ten Members are as follows:
- 3.3.1 Councillor Elinor Gazzard
Councillor Stephen Giles-Medhurst
Councillor Raj Khiroya
Councillor Chris Lloyd
Councillor Sarah Nelmes
Councillor Louise Price
Councillor Kevin Raeburn
Councillor Paul Rainbow
Councillor Jon Tankard
Councillor Chris Whately-Smith
- 3.4 If the Council does elect to undertake a CGR, the first step is to agree terms of reference, which sets out how the review may be undertaken. A phase of consultation follows, after which the Council decides what to do. It could decide to make no changes; make changes to a parish boundary; create a new parish or change warding arrangements in a parish.

- 3.5 If changes are proposed, consideration then needs to be given to any consequential matters; this depends on the nature of the changes but can include matters such as division of assets, the number of councillors in each Parish and when the changes shall come into effect.
- 3.6 If it elects to undertake the review, the Council is required to have regard to the guidance issued by Secretary of State and Local Government Boundary Commission for England. This requires the Council to undertake consultation with local government electors in the area, and any other parties we consider interested in it.
- 3.7 The guidance, although primarily focused on the creation of new parishes, sets out the type of factors that should be taken into account in determining these factors. References in legislation to a 'parish' also include a parish which has an alternative style (such as 'town', 'village' or 'community' council) and parish meetings.
- 3.8 The timeframes involved in reviews can vary significantly. If the review is very straightforward, it can be concluded within a year; more complex reviews, usually those involving the division of existing parishes or creation of new parishes, can take upwards of two years. The process works as follows:
 - 3.8.1 The District Council publishes terms of reference setting out how the review will occur and commences a period of consultation.
 - 3.8.2 Once the consultation concludes, the District Council makes recommendations – this is often followed by a secondary consultation if the Council believes changes are required.
 - 3.8.3 The District Council meets to make final recommendations and agree the reorganisation order (as the reorganisation order includes consequential amendments, in some cases this will come at a later date than the final recommendations).
- 3.9 Only the Full Council can agree the final recommendations.
- 3.10 The proposed terms of reference for the CGR are deliberately broad, allowing for a review of all aspects of community governance within the unparished council area. This includes, for example, the creation or naming of a parish, the establishment of a separate parish from an existing parish, alteration of parish boundaries, abolition or dissolution of a parish, change to parish electoral arrangements or parish grouping.
- 3.11 In the event that the Policy and Resources Committee agrees to commence a review, potential terms of reference are included at appendix A for approval. These have been developed in line with terms used by other councils, helping the public to understand what the review is and why it's being undertaken.
- 3.12 The timetable in the terms of reference envisage that if it was decided to make changes to the boundary the proposals would come into effect on 1 April 2026. This would allow elections for Chorleywood Parish to be undertaken at the same time as all other parish elections in 2027.
- 3.11 The overall recommended timescales for the CGR are as follows:

Policy & Resources Committee agree CGR and terms of reference	8 September 2025
Consultation begins	9 September 2025
Consultation ends	8 December 2025
Policy & Resources Committee agree draft proposals	15 December 2025 (Proposed Extraordinary)
Consultation on draft proposals begin (if required)	16 December 2025
Consultation on draft proposals ends	30 January 2026
Final proposals considered by Policy & Resources Committee	Extraordinary meeting required in February
Final proposals agreed by Council	24 February 2026
Reorganisation order made (inc any consequential matters)	TBC
New boundaries come into effect	1 April 2026
First elections based on new boundaries	6 May 2027

4. Options and Reasons for Recommendations

- 4.1. There are two options available to the Policy and Resources Committee at this stage: to undertake the review, or not to undertake the review.

5. Policy/Budget Reference and Implications

- 5.1 The recommendations in this report are within the Council's agreed policy and budgets.
- 5.2 The recommendations in this report do not impact on the achievement of specific performance indicators

6. Legal Implications

- 6.1 Section 82 of the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 gives district councils the power to undertake Community Governance Reviews of its area. At this stage, the Council is not obliged to undertake a review, but may elect to do so; if it does, it must comply with both the law and the statutory guidance.
- 6.2 The proposed terms of reference have been developed in line with the guidance. Section 81 of the Act states it is for the Council to decide the terms of reference of any CGR which the Council is to undertake and it must then publish them.
- 6.3 A District Council that is undertaking a review, must notify the County Council that the review for its area is to be undertaken and the terms of reference (including any modifications to those terms), as per section 79(3) of the above Act.

7. Financial, Staffing, Equal Opportunities, Environmental, Community Safety, Public Health, Customer Services Centre, Communications & Website, Risk Management and Health & Safety Implications

- 7.1 None specific.

Community Governance Review
Unparished areas of Three Rivers District Council

What is a community governance review and what can it do?

A community governance review (CGR) is an opportunity to explore the arrangements for parish councils in the area. It can only be undertaken by a Principal Authority, which in a two-tier area is the District Council.

A CGR can look at whether new parish councils should be created or disbanded, or whether the existing parish council arrangements should change. It can also agree any “consequential” matters, such as the number of parish councillors or whether assets should transfer between parishes.

In this case, the review will consider whether it is appropriate to parish some unparished areas. This will include whether to create new parish council(s) and/or alteration of parish boundaries and whether to change the parish electoral arrangements (the number of councillors to be elected to the council; the year when the ordinary election of parish councillors are held, whether the parish should be divided into wards etc). The potential outcomes of the review will be in accordance sections 87-92 of the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 Act.

Why are we doing the community governance review?

Chorleywood Parish Council formally requested that the District Council consider this matter. Nevertheless, it is good practice for District Councils to periodically look at parish boundaries. Over time, the natural boundaries that created parishes can change, and it may or may not be helpful to change the boundaries.

How will this impact me?

If Three Rivers District Council decides to introduce a new parish council or make changes to existing parish arrangements, it could mean that those living in the currently unparished areas become part of a new or existing parish council.

As far as possible, Three Rivers District Council will seek to work with the parishes concerned to ensure any potential consequences for local residents are minimised. For example, residents may have burial or allotment rights in one parish they may wish to ensure are preserved through the review.

Where are the unparished areas of Three Rivers District Council?

Attached to these terms of reference are three maps. The first shows all the parish and unparished areas of the district. Maps two and three show the specific boundaries of the two unparished areas as requested by Chorleywood Parish Council.

What is the process for this?

At this stage, Three Rivers District Council is consulting on whether or not to amend any boundary lines and/or create a new parish council. The feedback given during the consultation will be considered by the Council’s Policy and Resources Committee in December 2025.

If the Committee feels that changes should be taken forward, it will develop formal recommendations and may undertake a secondary consultation on these during December 2025 to January 2026. A final decision will be made by the Council by February 2026.

The review will comply with the legislative and procedural requirements set out in the 2007 Act, as well as statutory guidance. This review will follow the approach set out in these terms of reference, including the indicative timetable as detailed below.

What do we take into account in making a decision?

Three Rivers District Council is obliged to ensure that local community governance is reflective of the identities and interests of the community in the area, and effective and convenient. It has to take into account the impact of community governance on community cohesion and the size, population and boundaries of the community or local parishes.

The sort of factors we will consider are how the community comes together – are there natural or artificial borders that distinguish the parish boundaries, or economic, social or cultural factors, and do the residents on the parish boundary more naturally look to one parish or another.

Factors such as the level of precept (council tax) in one parish over another are not as much of a consideration.

How can I have my say?

The consultation will open on 9 September on the Council's website until 8 December 2025 (link to be included) You can also e-mail enquiries@threerivers.gov.uk (please put CGR in the subject line of the e-mail) or writing to Three Rivers House, Northway, Rickmansworth, Hertfordshire, WD3 1RL.

You are welcome to tell us your general thoughts about the review – for example, whether you have any concerns or feel there would be any benefits to making changes, as well as any thoughts you have on specific amendments to the boundary.

What is the proposed timeline for the review?
